

Levels

The work of the level is to display or hide accounts on program users

First, we create the levels, taking into account the arrangement of each level, because each level will have the authority to display the accounts of the level before it, if we look at the picture above, we will see that the level of management is the strongest level between levels, for example, if the account level is an accounting, the account will appear to a level Accounting and management and it will not appear at the level of sales and warehouse, or if the account level is a store, the account will appear for all levels (store - sales - accounting - management), meaning that the level at the bottom (management) is the strongest level and all accounts appear in it, either the level The one above (store) is considered the weakest level, meaning that only accounts whose account level is inventory appear in it

To add a level, we click on New, then enter the level name, and then OK

After adding levels, we give each user his own level from the user card

And in the account card, we define the level of the account
